

Public Speaking For Kids

Activity:	Tips:	Notes:
Topic and Time	Choose something that you are interested in. How long do you have to talk for?
Audience	Who will you be talking to and who will be judging.
Subject and purpose	What is the aim of your speech - to persuade, inform, entertain, etc. Brainstorm ideas note them down. Note personal stories you can add to make it more interesting.
Research	Not just internet, newspapers, magazines, library, family friends etc.

Activity:	Tips:	Notes:
Structure	Ask yourself the question - 'At the end of the speech I would like my audience to.....'
Beginning	Brief, capture the attention of the audience and establish the subject and purpose of the speech. Don't just restate the topic. Add your personality and make it unique, many others may be talking on the same topic.
Middle	Sets out your ideas, shares your research, includes examples to support your topic. For your time limit work out how many points / paragraphs you can include. Work on having a powerful statement to lead into each new point / paragraph.

Activity:	Tips:	Notes:
End	Short statement relating back to the topic and sums up the subject and purpose of the speech. Make it brief, but memorable. Try including a memorable line that the audience can take away with them. Memorise your conclusion, so your last couple of sentences can be delivered with confidence and with full eye contact with the audience.
Practice	By yourself first. Time it and edit your content so it first with the time restraints.
Palm Cards	Then make palm cards for key points only. Keep cards to a minimum and number them.
Dress rehearsal!	Practice using palm cards, first by yourself, then either in front of family or even video your self.
